

Holiday Camps Kick Off

Over 80 teens boarded the bus to Machakos yesterday for the first holiday camp since 2016. We're so grateful for our supporters who have made this possible. The weather has been great and the kids got to swim on their first afternoon. Bible teaching started this morning. Please keep these young people in prayer.

Alumni Visit

20 young people, who Turning Point supported through education, returned to our school last month to encourage the students. Each one took a few minutes to share their story and how far they've come. Each one urged the students to make the most of the opportunity in front of them. It has not been as easy journey for any of them but all of them said how grateful they were for Turning Point's impact on their lives. It's wonderful to see them all again and see that friendships formed at TP remain strong. Their visit had a real impact on our students.

Masungula Kraft Graduation

We hosted the Graduation Ceremony for our partners, Masungula Kraft Foundation, at our library in Kibera. Over the past six months, trainer Monica has taught women from Kibera tailoring and business skills. She is excellent at gently encouraging the Mums and it's clear that they have grown in self-confidence as well as skill over the months. The mothers have gone from zero tailoring skills to making clothes for their children and various products they can sell. They even made their own Graduation clothes.

Andrew

Andrew as 15 years old when he dropped out of his school in rural Kenya and moved to the city to live with his aunt. Andrew made a small income fetching water for people in Kibera. He would fill 20 litre jerry cans of water and carry them to small food vendors, or his neighbours, for a small fee. He would take all of this money to his aunt to help buy food for the family. There was no money to pay the admission fees to join school.

But Andrew was desperate to get back to school and joined our School Transition Programme in January. "I first noticed that Andrew has a gift for leadership when we were attending the Turning Point Birthday Celebrations at the Fountains of Hope School, earlier this year" explains, Project Manager, Margaret.

"Andrew is one of the older children in the Kiando Centre and was taking care to watch over and guide the younger ones as we walked by the road to reach the school. He is a quiet boy but shows a lot of maturity."

Andrew, a keen runner, competed in inter-school athletics and came second in most of his races, he just missed out on going to compete at the county level.

*****